

A fragrance is like invisible sex appeal – you just have to know how to wear it.

● HOW TO SEXIFY YOUR PERFUME

- DO tap on an alluring fragrant oil like vanilla or musk, then top it with your usual perfume.
- DO subtly scent your skin by massaging on a perfumed cream. Even sexier: ask him to help.

DON'T spritz when you're in your pre-party tracksuit pants. You want to feel sensual when you put on a scent. Do it after a steamy shower instead.

● WHERE TO WEAR IT (PICK A FEW SPOTS)

★ ON YOUR HAIR Sprinkle a few drops of perfume or essential oil on your fingers and run them through your hair. Nice and subtle for a date.

★ IN YOUR CLEAVAGE The heat here (it's the warmest part of your body) will make scents smell stronger, which is good for when you're feeling bold and flirtatious, but bad for work.

★ THE SMALL OF YOUR BACK A dab in this out-of-the-way spot is unexpectedly sexy when you're wearing a backless dress (or simply nothing at all).

★ BEHIND YOUR KNEES For a night on the town. Fragrance rises, so it'll keep floating up as you move (especially if you're dancing).
